Hassan is a staff member at NPC Kfarshima whose family lives in an area that has been directly affected by the recent war situation. Due to the repeated danger in their area, this was not the first time the family had to evacuate their home and seek shelter in a safer place. During one of the periods when strikes were taking place, Hassan's house was damaged. This added to the family's instability, as they were already facing the stress of repeated displacement and uncertainty about returning home safely.
